

Safety vs food sufficiency

Sriroop Chaudhuri and Mimi Roy, JUL 31 2017

Does Israel mean only war and advanced militarisation to India? Harnessing defence systems and newer ammo deals? Upgrading cyber connectivity and modernisation of national security networks? That's what it seems like with each high-level visit, in fact. And with raging debates over border breaches in the North to the Northeastern states, it sounds in place. And so was it even during Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent tour to the banks of Jordan.

No doubt, Israel has been our prime benefactor since 1990s, providing strategic defence peripherals of latest and highest norms. And of course, no measure seems adequate when it comes to resolving border disputes and ensuring national security. Conflict scenarios should be averted at any cost. But unfortunately, such dialogues shouldn't be 'reduced' just to improve our firepower alone.

Read more at: <https://www.deccanherald.com/content/625734/safety-vs-food-sufficiency.html>